Set within 350 acres of diverse landscape, woodland, heathland and meadows, The Barn at Holton Lee is particularly appealing to artists, disabled people, carers, groups, conference delegates and those looking for a retreat.

Official Opening: 7 Feb 2008

The site overlooks the shores of Poole harbour and sustains a variety of wildlife, including rare and nationally significant species. Access to the environment is promoted through use of our all terrain scooters, although individual scooters are welcomed and battery charging facilities are available.

The dining room provides a communal space where guests can come together to share meals and other social activities. The Barn is flexible and designed to welcome disabled people, carers and anyone looking for a break.

We provide nutritious, home cooked meals and can cater for special diets. Meals are cooked in the open plan kitchen/dining area by our team of friendly, trained staff. There are a variety of arts and environmental activities which take place throughout the week. Internet access is provided and each bedroom has a television.

The bedrooms all contain twin beds, which can easily be put together to form a double bed if required. The beds provided are either adjustable height or have a raising mechanism at the head and foot of the bed. Single guests are of course welcome to take a bedroom on their own.

- Each room has a paging - alarm call system to summon a staff member if required.
- Individual temperature controls adjust the underfloor heating provided throughout the building.
- All bedrooms have a ceiling track to provide the ability to transfer from bed into en-suite shower room by hoist.
- Fully accessible en-suite shower/wet room in each bedroom.
- Registered with CSCI to provide personal assistance for up to 4 guests.
